earclinic is a private ENT facility offering first-class facilities with the highest levels of equipment and expertise.

This page details the process and equipment used for the removal of excessive wax. Seated in an electrically adjustable chair, you are comfortable and in just the right position for us to work safely.

Welcome: On arrival you will be asked to sign a consent form, provide details of which surgery you are registered. You will also need to answer some questions related to your treatment.

Oto-endoscopy: Mobile phone or pocket cameras are not used. Seated in an electronic clinic chair, we use the latest medical endoscope technology. We obtain the clearest, detailed view of the ear.

Education: There are a choice of large monitors so we can view and discuss the now visible problem, its cause, how best to treat it and if the problem may reoccur.

We are members of the Patient's Association.

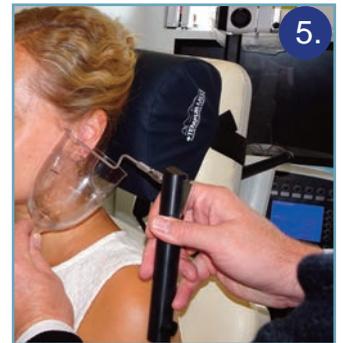

To reduce risk, we do not use head mounted magnification (Loupes) to view the ear.

We use an ENT specified microscope. If irrigation (water) is required, we use an advanced 37°C pre-heated irrigator.

Microsuction: A fully adjustable chair, powerful LED microscope, HD camera/video and foot pedals, ensure our hands are free to work safely. A small suction tube is placed in the ear canal.

Irrigation & Instruments: There are instances where irrigation or other instruments are used to ensure best practice when treating a patient. We will discuss your treatment with you.

Validation and plan: You will see your images before and after your treatment. If you have a recurrent problem, a complimentary scheduled reminder is offered.
